Academic Information

• Wharton students cannot take Concentration courses nor Business Fundamentals abroad. Students typically take Business Breadth and Unrestricted Electives abroad.

• Students meet with a home school academic advisor for study abroad to provide study abroad approval.
- Schedule via Wharton online scheduling system (New appointments are posted every Friday)
  - Students from Wharton can apply to a College program and earn College credit.
  - Students on these programs would not be able to take subjects that fall into Wharton's realm (i.e., finance, accounting) or SEAS areas (i.e., computer science, mechanical engineering).
  - All Wharton students seek study abroad approval from Wharton regardless of if they are studying on a Wharton-approved program or a College-approved program.
- On XCAT, Penn's External Credit Approval Tool, students search for pre-approved classes ("precedents") for a particular host university or submit a new syllabus for approval.

Home School Academic Advisors for Study Abroad

- Asia: Liz Sutton
- France, Italy & Portugal: Jenna Tesauro
- UK & Ireland: Hillary Wiesel
- Non-Wharton programs: Celina Gray
