

Eligibility

The University of Pennsylvania uses the E-3 Australian Treaty Worker in Specialty Occupation category for tenure-track faculty members, and research associates, as well as certain staff positions such as programmer/analysts and research specialists. Current immigration law makes the E-3 category available to Australian nationals in a “specialty occupation,” that is, a position “which requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge and attainment of a baccalaureate or higher degree or its equivalent [in the specialty occupation] as a minimum requirement.” The E-3 employee must have met the minimum qualifications for the position at the time of applying for an E-3 visa. The Australia-U.S. Free Trade Agreement (AUSFTA) allows a maximum of 10,500 E-3s per fiscal year.

Length of Stay

The E-3 category provides for entry on a non-permanent basis into the U.S. for up to 24 months at a time. The E-3 visa applicant must satisfy the consular officer that s/he intends to depart the U.S. upon termination of E-3 status. The validity may be renewed, provided that the E-3 nonimmigrant is able to demonstrate that s/he does not intend to remain or work permanently in the U.S.

Period of Employment

The E-3 worker's employment start date will be the LCA start date or the I-94 card start date, whichever is later. The E-3 worker's last date of employment will be the LCA end date or the I-94 card end date, whichever is earlier. Should the dates on the E-3 employee's I-94 card differ from the LCA dates, immediately contact an OIP-ISSS advisor.

E-3 Processing

All E-3 applications, including extensions and amendments, require three steps:

Step 1: ISSS must first obtain an “E-3 required wage” by comparing the prevailing wage determination from the Department of Labor (DOL) to the actual wage data provided by the hiring department. An E-3 employer is required to pay the higher of the two wages. If Penn's wage offer is found to be inadequate, the E-3 employee's wage must be increased, or the E-3 process for the position must be abandoned.

Step 2: After receiving a satisfactory prevailing wage determination, ISSS files a Labor Condition Application (LCA) with DOL affirming that Penn will meet the prevailing wage and other legal requirements of the E-3. The hiring department will be asked by the ISSS advisor to post a notice of LCA filing for 10 consecutive business days at a conspicuous place. The posting will not delay the E-3 processing.

Step 3: After receiving LCA certification, ISSS will notify the hiring department to pick up the certified LCA. The prospective E-3 employee will make a visa appointment at a U.S. Consulate/Embassy to obtain an E-3 visa (and E-3D visas for his/her dependents, if applicable). NOTE: while it may be possible to change/extend status to E-3 within the U.S., the process is costly, much more time-consuming, and cumbersome than making a visa application abroad, and is not recommended.

. The following processing fees will be assessed for initial and subsequent applications:

- For E-3 LCA only (for those traveling internationally to obtain E-3 status): $605 ($585 if received by June 30, 2020.)
- For E-3 LCA and I-129 filing with USCIS (for those who do not want to travel): $1,580 ($1,520 if received by June 30, 2020.)

ISSS Processing Times

To allow for sufficient government processing time, hiring departments should submit E-3 request materials to ISSS for a prospective E-3 employee 6-7 months in advance but no later than 90 days prior to the anticipated start of E-3 employment. If a complete E-3 request packet is not submitted to ISSS in a timely fashion, ISSS cannot guarantee that the application will be processed and/or filed in a timely manner or at the requested time. Please note that ISSS processing times may vary depending on volume.

Dependent Status

The spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age of E-3 employees may apply E-3D status. The spouse and children need not be Australian citizens. The spouse of an E-3 nonimmigrant may apply for an EAD (Employment Authorization Document) to work in the U.S. An unmarried child may not continue to hold E-3 status upon reaching his or her 21st birthday.

Employment Restrictions

The E-3 is specific to the employer and job/position for an individual E-3 employee. E-3 employment authorized for Penn does not allow employment with another department at Penn, at another location, or for a different employer. Consult ISSS prior to any changes in the individual's employment, such as change in title, academic degree required for position, number of hours worked, department, location, or position duties. In some cases, the E-3 and any dependent family members may have to travel outside the U.S. Please note that failure to consult ISSS may put Penn and the individual employee at risk for sanctions and penalties by DHS or DOL. E-3 employees are not allowed to accept honoraria from outside sources.

Travel in E-3 Status

E-3 employees should always consult with ISSS before traveling outside the U.S.

Change of Employer

If an individual is already in the U.S. in E-3 status but is sponsored by another employer and wishes to start employment at Penn, the Penn hiring department must submit an E-3 request packet to ISSS. The individual must not begin working for Penn until Penn's E-3 is approved and the E-3 individual and dependent family members have left the U.S. and reentered in valid E-3 and E-3D statuses respectively (not eligible for portability).

International Student and Scholar Services

Hiring departments must review and submit both department and employee forms and supporting documentation listed below as one complete package to ISSS. Please save a copy of materials and forms, including checks, submitted to ISSS for your records.

Copies should be single-sided and on 8 ½ x 11" paper. Please do not use staples.

Information about Similarly Employed Workers in the Department

List the official position titles, salaries and hours worked per week of all other workers in the department/school with the same (or similar) official Penn (or UPHS) position title and classification. Attach a separate sheet if necessary. (Do not include information about the E-3 employee.)

Position Title	Annual Salary	Hours worked per week	If this salary is higher than the E-3 employee, provide detailed rationale that addresses the criteria listed below. If more space needed, use the space provided below.

Please justify the E-3 employee's salary in comparison to all other currently employed in the department in the same position classification. The E-3 employee's salary must be equal to or higher than the salary of each similarly employed workers. If it is not, a detailed rationale of why the prospective E-3's salary is less is required based on one or more of the following criteria: 1) experience (length, depth, or type), 2) qualifications, 3) educational background, 4) position responsibility or function, 5) specialized knowledge or research field), or 6) other legitimate business factors (e.g., professional distinctions, development of a patent, receipt of an international prize, or other meritorious performance rewarded as part of a defined pay system of the employer). Please note that limited grant or department funding, a lower negotiated salary, guidelines set by NIH or Penn, or market conditions cannot be used to justify paying the E-3 employee a lower salary.

Agreement and Understanding of U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) Regulations

- The E-3 worker will be paid the "E-3 required wage." the "E-3 required wage" for an E-3 employee must be the higher of the two wages: either the "actual wage", the wage paid to similarly employed workers at Penn, or the "prevailing wage" paid to similarly employed workers in the metropolitan area as determined by DOL.
- Employment of the E-3 employee will not adversely affect the working conditions of workers similarly employed in the department; nor is there at present a strike, lockout, or work stoppage in the department affecting such workers.
- The E-3 worker's employment start date will be the LCA start date or the I-94 card start date, whichever is later. The E-3 worker's last date of employment will be the LCA end date or the I-94 card end date, whichever is earlier. Should the dates on the E-3 employee's I-94 card differ from the LCA dates, immediately contact an OIP-ISSS advisor.
- The department must consult ISSS immediately if a decision is made to terminate employment prior to the expiration of E-3 approval. ISSS will then notify appropriate U.S. government agencies that the employment has been terminated in order to release the department of salary/payment obligations. If an employee resigns, the department must also notify ISSS immediately.
- Consequences of failure to comply with E-3 Labor Condition Application requirements are severe, such as paying back wages for the duration of E-3 employment. The department must notify ISSS immediately if the employment will be terminated early for any reason.
- E-3 employment is specific to the employer for the individual employee for the particular position, location, and duties. The department must contact ISSS as soon as possible prior to any anticipated changes in the terms and conditions of employment.
- Upon review of the E-3 request packet, ISSS will forward a "Notice of Filing" to the department contact person for immediate posting within the department. If there is a regular work location in another place, additional posting may be required.
- To be in compliance with DOL regulations, all information should be accurate and up to date.
