INTRODUCTION

There are several elements, when working in foreign countries that make hiring abroad a complex process. Before starting consider the following: a) the activity, b) the country, and c) Penn’s Status in that country.

These are just a few aspects to be addressed to mitigate the immediate and long-term challenges and risks associated with engaging international personnel. Penn departments/centers (Programs) should consider the employment laws of the host country and the planned activities of the staff. In addition, they should try to anticipate how staffing needs may change in subsequent years after the program is established.

Penn’s Global Support Services (GSS) office has put together this “toolkit” to assist with understanding the complexities and planning for personnel needs abroad. During the initial planning, contact GSS for information on Penn’s status and capabilities in a country. GSS can review with you local employment laws and advise on the best staffing models. Additionally, GSS can facilitate conversations with other Penn departments, and outside vendors, whose expertise may be required.

In-Country Considerations:

- The social tax withholdings, statutory benefit requirements, or local labor laws.
- How wages will be paid?
- Does compensation meet minimum obligations?
- The proper work authorization (visas, work-permits, licenses, etc.).
- US vs local benefits eligibility & requirements.

STAFFING OPTIONS

A number of options exist for fulfilling your personnel needs abroad. The Decision Tree (Appendix 1) helps to guide you through the various options, the questions to ask in making a determination, and the regulatory limitations associated with some of the options. Please refer to the Decision Tree for general guidance and contact GSS with specific questions and for more tailored advice.
Engaging Independent Contractors

This type of arrangement is most often appropriate when a project is limited in length and scope. Contractors are typically paid a fixed rate per project after a deliverable or upon receipt of an invoice for services. To use this option, the Program may identify an Independent Contractor. A country specific agreement will need to be drafted and signed (signing the statement of work or independent contractor agreement is an important and necessary step).

I. Classification of Independent Contractors/International Context

In most countries, a worker is assumed to be an employee unless he or she qualifies as an independent contractor by meeting certain criteria. The criteria vary from country to country, but the following qualities tend to be globally important for independent contractor determination:

- Control over how, when, and where the work is done
- A business of doing similar work for other clients (also as a contractor)
- Use of own office, other facilities, and equipment
- Payment of own business expenses
- Pay based solely on services rendered (e.g. no vacation pay)
- Defined project or contract end date

The Program must be aware of both home and host country labor classification laws as a worker could be reclassified by either country's legislation. Penn’s Service Provider Questionnaire (SPQ) – completed by the potential service provider, and Service Provider Evaluation Worksheet (SPE) – completed by the hiring manager in concert with the school/center HR director, are used to evaluate the relationship of the service provider and the University. In recent years, the US Department of Labor (DOL) has strengthened US domestic classification regulations for independent contractors. Although the modifications of the US guidelines are based on work in the US, Penn will use these forms, along with the host country’s regulations, when determining the appropriate worker status for individuals performing services outside of the US.

II. Penalties and Liabilities of Misclassification

Potential risks for misclassifying an employee or independent contractor are not limited to individual tax and labor violations but could also expose Penn to Permanent Establishment or other institutional risks. If an independent contractor is later found to be a de facto employee and penalties are assessed, these costs would accrue to the contracted department. Some countries require independent contractors to register as businesses and/or collect a service tax or value-added tax (VAT) from their customers (e.g. Penn). A few countries apply certain employment obligations (e.g. statutory vacation or tax withholding) even to those who are engaged and qualify as independent contractors.

III. Independent Contractor Agreement Sample Template

This template can be used for international contracts with Independent Contractors. It may not be appropriate for every country. Contact GSS to assist with appropriate language. In cases where the individual’s scope and remuneration are limited, a condensed “statement of work” may be the best form for engaging the service. However, this should be reviewed by GSS or Tax & International Operations to ensure required or standard language is included.
Hiring Local Employees Directly

Programs may only hire local personnel in-country when Penn is a registered entity or a registered employer in the host country. This possibility may be more cost effective and sustainable however, it requires that Penn has a legal presence or registration in-country, as well as the creation and management of a local payroll. In most cases, hiring local personnel directly is not an option. Penn is currently registered in very few countries. Registering an entity abroad is a very complex and costly way to operate overseas. Unless there are long-term plans or a business benefit for establishing a presence abroad, Penn has no plans for creating a presence in additional countries.

If Penn is NOT a registered employer in the host country, any direct hiring must consider the following:

- Will the University have a Permanent Establishment if the employee is hired by the U.S. entity?
- How will the withholding and statutory obligations be handled?
- How will the individual’s tax liabilities be handled?
- Are all statutory benefits handled through social/government contributions or does the employer have to adopt local plans to cover its in-country employees?

Please contact GSS for assistance with this option and to review countries where a registration currently exists for Penn.

Collaborating or Partnering with an Established Organization in the Host Country

Collaborating is usually the least expensive and most efficient way to engage staff in an employee capacity for any period of time. A local collaborator can be a university or other organization. In this arrangement, the staff are employees of the local organization. The administrative activities associated with their employment are the responsibility of the local organization. Collaborating arrangements can generally be outlined in a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) or contract.

Collaborating agreements should address:

- Can the collaborator act as the employer of record for Penn’s required activity?
- Can the collaborator employ and provide work authorizations for Penn’s employees as well as in-country nationals?
- Is there a written agreement between Penn and the collaborator in regards to the individual being engaged and associated costs?
- Is there a written agreement between the collaborator and individual if necessary?

Contact GSS for assistance or information with respect to new and existing collaborations. GSS will facilitate an agreement or MOU review. GSS can also provide approved templates that may help in these situations.
When to use a PEO?

When the scope, length of project or nature of activity may pose employment compliance concerns.

In addition, a PEO should be used when the work requires:

- Country sponsorships for visas
- Authorization approval
- Other in-country industry requirements

Contracting with a PEO provider can be an alternative to collaborating with a local institution or establishing a foreign payroll, and in some cases, it can allow for limited or full employment without triggering registration requirements. In this model, the individual(s) would be employed by the PEO and “leased” to the program. The program would pay the PEO an administrative fee in addition to the salary. The PEO is responsible for compliance with local employment and tax laws including any reporting obligations. PEOs are generally more experienced than Penn with host-country regulations though Penn may share liability if the PEO fails to comply with the law. If the University can work with a PEO to be the Employer of Record for individuals in the country, then it is possible to employ the individual, considering:

- What are the total estimated costs associated with hiring a PEO
- Fees, taxes, and statutory benefits

In addition, please review the PEO matrix for information on iWG and other known providers.

Penn PEO Preferred Vendor

Penn has secured a master service agreement with the PEO, iWorkGlobal (iWG). As Penn’s PEO preferred vendor, iWG can provide departments and schools quick service quotes and ease of implementation and PO payments. Working closely with Purchasing, GSS has outlined the process for requesting a quote and implementing iWG services, please see workflow.
Penn Personnel Working Abroad

In situations where a program requires the expertise of a US person or the program prefers oversight by a current Penn employee, it may be addressed through business travel assuming the activity and duration is considered short-term. Longer-term employment abroad involving a Penn employee may also be accomplished through some of the local hiring options listed above.

Be aware that overseas work by employees for longer periods of time carries costs and regulatory risks. In general, any work assignment abroad lasting over 90 days within a year should be reviewed for possible implications for the employee and the University. Contact GSS regarding legal, tax, and visa/immigration considerations. Our office can coordinate resources with other groups or departments as well as advise on the in-country requirements and options.

Penn Personnel Seconded to an Overseas Institution

The term secondment covers the situation whereby an employee or a group of employees is assigned on a temporary basis to work for another organization or a different part of the organization of their current employer. In general, the seconded employee, though working at a host Company and/or new location, will remain the legal employee of the original (seconding) organization. This allows the employee to gain experience or provide support to the new organization on a temporary basis, but to easily return to the original employer and maintain the original employer’s benefits. Cross-border secondment presents added complexity including labor and tax regulations in (at least) two jurisdictions, payroll and potential shadow payrolling, income tax treaty analysis, and totalization agreement review for social security, just to name a few.

Penn can facilitate an employee secondment to another Penn existing or new entity. Significant costs may be involved with respect to legal and tax service provider fees in the home and host countries. At this time, Penn can only provide assistance in a secondment situation to another Penn entity and cannot facilitate a secondment arrangement to a PEO. Secondment to a third party organization overseas (non-PEO), such as a collaborative partner, may be available depending on circumstances and will require significant coordination efforts between the department and the third party, along with central payroll, benefits, and tax.

Local Hiring Decision Tree - Employees

1. The University has identified a position need.
   - Does the jurisdiction recognize the independent contractor concept? Yes/No
     - Yes → Complete Penn’s Service Provider Classification Process. Consult GSS regarding appropriate classification. → Hire individual as independent contractor.*
     - No → Employee

2. Is the University registered as an entity in country? Yes/No
   - Yes → What are the withholding obligations? What are the filing requirements? What are the statutory benefits requirements? How will payroll be managed? What is the appropriate employment contract for the individual? What local Labor Laws apply? → Employ directly as local employer.
   - No → Can the partner act as a withholding agent for the University? Is there a written agreement between the University and the partner in regards to the employee and associated costs? Is there a written agreement between the partner and employee if necessary (i.e., reemployment)? → Employ through registered entity.

3. Did the University work with a PEO to be the Employer of Record for individuals in country? Yes/No
   - Yes → What are the costs associated with registration? What is the timeline for registration? → Employ through PEO.
   - No → Can the University register as an employer in country? Yes/No
     - Yes → What are the total estimated costs associated with hiring a PEO including fees, taxes and statutory benefits? → Employ through PEO.
     - No → Will the University have a Permanent Establishment if the employee is hired by the US entity? How will the withholding statutory obligations and individual tax liabilities be handled? → Employ from US entity.

*Should the University decide to hire an individual as an independent contractor, there would be additional considerations, including:
- How will the Independent Contractor be paid?
- What are the withholding requirements?
- Will hiring Independent Contractor expose university to PE risk?
- What is the appropriate form of contract to use?

Appendix: GUIDE FOR ENGAGING iWORK GLOBAL

Using iWorkGlobal for your international employment needs

How to get started
When a Penn department/school identifies a global employment need, such as hiring a local employee or in some cases, engaging an independent contractor, the Penn department/school contacts GSS. GSS will send the Service Questionnaire to the Penn department/school. This questionnaire will provide iWG with information regarding the scope of work and the program’s needs and employment tasks. Once GSS receives the completed questionnaire, they will coordinate the initial outreach request with iWorkGlobal (iWG) to facilitate a service price quote or direct implementation plan. GSS will coordinate between the school/center and iWG throughout the hiring process.

Initiating the Onboarding Process with the local partner

1. Once the Penn department/school has approved the price quote they will complete the formal service requisition and returned to iWG. If the employee is already known, iWG will request a draft offer letter and the employee’s resume.

2. iWG will review the requisition and supplemental documents for completeness and send the requisition to the local partner.

3. An iWG representative will contact the Penn department/school to coordinate the next steps and explain the iWG’s structure.

At this point, iWG takes the lead

1. iWG will reach out to the employee to introduce iWG and the local partner and outline the onboarding process.

2. The local partner (coordinated by iWG but may be a third party) will also introduce themselves to the employee and schedule their onboarding.

3. The employee completes onboarding paperwork and returns it to the local partner.

The average onboarding time frame takes about 10 business days for local workers. If the employee is an expatriate worker, then the timing will depend upon receiving the visa/work permit. Penn will not have any interaction with this correspondence though the offer letter specifics will likely need to be complete in order for the visa application with the local partner to move forward.
Appendix: GUIDE FOR ENGAGING iWORK GLOBAL (cont’d)

Payment
The Penn department/school will:

1. Create a Purchase Order (PO) for iWG per worker/individual
   - Unless employment is associated with large project requiring several workers

2. Send GSS the PO number and identify the project/worker in description line
   - iWG & Penn have negotiated a NET 15 payment schedule
   - Salary payment must be within 15 days of receipt of iWG invoice

GSS will coordinate this schedule to ensure that salaries will not be delivered late. In doing so, GSS requires that iWG invoice Penn through A/P, with electronic copies via BEN Financials to the Penn department/school, and GSS.

Setting up Purchase Orders
When setting up the PO requisition, follow the usual steps for a Non-Marketplace Request from the Requisition Homepage in BEN Financials. Complete the request as normal, with additional details regarding the Item Description box. Please be as descriptive as possible regarding the iWG services and follow the general format directions below.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA
SAMPLE CONTRACT FOR SERVICES RENDERED BY A NON-U.S.
CONSULTANT/INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR OUTSIDE OF THE U.S.

THIS AGREEMENT made this [ENTER DATE] by and between The Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, a Pennsylvania tax-exempt institution of higher education organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, having its principal address at 3451 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104 (hereafter referred to as the "University") and [ENTER CONTRACTOR’S NAME AND ADDRESS] (hereafter referred to as the "Service Provider").

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the University desires to contract with the Service Provider for the provision of certain services as hereinafter set forth; and

WHEREAS, Service Provider hereby represents to the University that it has the skill, experience and all requisite occupational licenses to provide the Services called for under this Agreement in a first class and professional manner;

NOW, THEREFORE, as hereinafter set forth and for good and valuable consideration, the parties, intending to be legally bound, agree as follows:

1. Description of Services. On or before the dates specified in the attached Scope of Services, the Service Provider shall perform, complete and provide to the University, in a first class and professional manner as approved by the University, the Services described in the Scope of Services attached hereto as Exhibit A (collectively, the "Services").

   All work to be performed by the Service Provider under this Agreement shall be performed by Service Provider unless the University agrees in writing that certain specified portions of the work may be performed by agents, contractors, or subcontractors of Service Provider. This restriction shall not apply to typing, filing and other similar clerical work.

   In performing the Services, Service Provider shall coordinate its work with the work of other consultants and other University offices whose activities may have a bearing on the Services to be provided hereunder. The University’s Principal Contact Person will identify any consultant or University office whose work will be relevant to the work of Service Provider under this Agreement.

2. Fee.

   A. Base Fee. The University agrees to pay the Service Provider the sum specified in the Scope of Services as full consideration for the performance of the Services. Payment of such sum shall be in accordance with the schedule of payments set forth in the Scope of Services. All payments shall be due on the later to occur of (i) completion of the Services or agreed upon portion of the Services (if partial payments are provided for in the Scope of Services) for which payment is sought and (ii) 30 days after invoicing.

   B. Additional Services. The University may require Service Provider to perform services in excess of those contemplated by the Scope of Services. Such services shall be provided at the rates specified in Exhibit A or, if Exhibit A does not set compensation for additional services, then at a mutually agreed upon cost. No work performed by the Service Provider which is beyond the scope of the Services described in Exhibit A shall be deemed additional services for which compensation shall be payable unless the amount of such additional fees and the scope of such additional services shall have been agreed to in writing, in advance, by the University.

3. Principal Contact Person.
A. The University's Principal Contact Person under this Agreement shall be [ENTER INTERNAL CONTACT NAME] and all correspondence, reports and inquiries regarding this Agreement shall be directed to that person. Any additional services under this Agreement may be authorized only by the Principal Contact Person.

A. A policy of professional liability insurance affording protection in amounts not less than $2,000,000 USD, including but not limited to its indemnification obligations, and shall present a certificate of insurance, acceptable to the University, evidencing its insurance coverages, prior to or at the time of execution of this Agreement. If the aforementioned limit requirement contradicts the regional or geographic standards in the location where the service will be provided then the requirement shall default to the regional or geographical standards.

B. A policy of commercial general liability, including contractual liability, in amounts not less than $2,000,000 USD, including but not limited to its indemnification obligations, and shall present a certificate of insurance, acceptable to the University, evidencing its insurance coverages, prior to or at the time of execution of this Agreement. 5. Indemnification. To the extent permitted by law, the parties agree to indemnify and hold harmless one another, their successors, assigns, trustees, officers, employees, agents and students from and against all action, causes of action, claims and demands whatsoever, and from all costs, damages, expenses, charges, debts and liabilities whatsoever (including attorneys' fees), whether known or unknown, present or future, that arise from or are connected with the provision of the Services and the negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement, except as to those acts, errors and omissions that are due to the breach of this agreement by either party or the sole negligence of one of the indemnified parties or the willful acts of one of the indemnified parties’ successors, assigns, trustees, officers, employees, agents, or students.

6. Cooperation in the Event of Lawsuits. In the event that any claim, demand, suit or other legal proceeding arising out of any matter relating to this Agreement is made or instituted by any person against the University, the Service Provider shall, at its own cost and expense, provide the University with all reasonable information and assistance in the defense or other disposition thereof.

A. Base Fee. The University agrees to pay the Service Provider the sum specified in the Scope of Services as full consideration for the performance of the Services. Payment of such sum shall be in accordance with the schedule of payments set forth in the Scope of Services. All payments shall be due on the later to occur of (i) completion of the Services or agreed upon portion of the Services (if partial payments are provided for in the Scope of Services) for which payment is sought and (ii) 30 days after invoicing.

B. Additional Services. The University may require Service Provider to perform services in excess of those contemplated by the Scope of Services. Such services shall be provided at the rates specified in Exhibit A or, if Exhibit A does not set compensation for additional services, then at a mutually agreed upon cost. No work performed by the Service Provider which is beyond the scope of the Services described in Exhibit A shall be deemed additional services for which compensation shall be payable unless the amount of such additional fees and the scope of such additional services shall have been agreed to in writing, in advance, by the University.

3. Principal Contact Person.
A. The University's Principal Contact Person under this Agreement shall be [ENTER INTERNAL CONTACT NAME] and all correspondence, reports and inquiries regarding this Agreement shall be directed to that person. No failure by the University to insist upon the strict performance of any term, covenant, agreement or provision of this Agreement or to exercise any right or remedy consequent upon a breach thereof, and no acceptance by the University of Services during the continuance of any such breach, shall constitute a waiver of any such breach or of any such term, covenant, agreement or provision. No term, covenant, agreement or provision of this Agreement and no breach thereof shall be waived, altered or modified except by a written instrument executed by the parties. No waiver of any breach shall affect this Agreement, but each and every term, covenant, agreement and provision of this Agreement shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any other then-existing or subsequent breach thereof.

E. Final Agreement. This Agreement contains the final and entire agreement between the parties and is intended to be an integration of all prior agreements between them regarding the Services. The parties hereto shall not be bound by any agreements, conditions, representations or warranties relating to the provision of the Services, oral or written, express or implied, not contained herein.

F. Time of the Essence. Time is of the essence in the performance of all obligations under this Agreement. In the event that the Service Provider fails for any reason whatsoever other than force majeure to perform and complete the Services in accordance with the schedule, such failure shall constitute a breach of this Agreement.

G. Severability. In the event that, for any reason whatsoever, any clause or provision of this Agreement (or the application of such clause or provision to a particular set of circumstances) is held or declared to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, such holding or declaration shall not in any way affect the validity or enforceability of any other clause or provision of this Agreement (or the application of such clause or provision to a different set of circumstances).

H. Captions. The captions to the paragraphs in this Agreement are included for convenience only and are not intended to and shall not be deemed to modify or explain any of the terms of this Agreement.

I. Counterparts. This Agreement has been executed in several counterparts, but all counterparts shall constitute one and the same instrument.

J. Service Agreement Governs. If any provisions of this Service Agreement are inconsistent with or contradict the Scope of Services document attached hereto as Exhibit A, this Service Agreement shall govern.
K. Legal Status. The Service Provider confirms that the Service Provider is a resident of or a registered entity in [ENTER COUNTRY], and has acquired and satisfied all legal requirements, authorizations, and permits to perform all services under this Agreement in [ENTER COUNTRY].

L. Original Signatures. The parties hereby agree that facsimile signatures whether transmitted by telephonic facsimile machine or computer transmitted files will be considered original signatures for all purposes including, but not limited to, authentication of this document (or any amendment prepared and executed in accordance with the terms of this document) in any legal proceeding.
IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned parties have caused this Agreement to be executed as of the day and year first above written.
